THE VACUUM LAW OF PROSPERITY

Nature Abhors a Vacuum

Meaning: Empty spaces become filled very quickly.

This means that we have to create space for that which we desire.

Bob tells a great story about working with a professional football team in Australia. While going through their clubhouse, they took Bob to their trophy case. Bob asked them what their objective was, and they said they wanted to win “The Big Cup.” Bob quickly told them they didn’t have any room for it in the case, and they replied, “We’ll make room.” He was quick to tell them they had to make room for it NOW.

What do you need to create space for in your life?

Aunt Marg’s Curtains

You will often hear Bob tell the story of his Aunt Marg and her curtains. It is amazing how something so simple can teach us so many lessons about life.

The only thing that we have in our life are those things that we love or are in harmony with.

“...if a person remains continually in close proximity with something — be it another person or an object — it can only be because the person is in harmonious vibration with them, or it.”

The real secret behind the Vacuum Law of Prosperity lies in the fact that you can’t get something until you are first willing to give something away.

Givers Gain

Were you tempted to clean out your closet after reading this chapter?

Bob urges us to clean out our closets (or cupboards, or garage) and get rid of everything that we don't really want or like anymore. But to get rid of them, Bob tells us to GIVE them away, not sell them.

Why?

Givers Gain. You can never give to much of anything. And, when you do give, give freely without any expectation of receiving — otherwise, you're trading.

This law not only pertains to the material things, but also to our mental domain. If we want to entertain new ideas, we must be willing to "let go of" or to challenge some of those old ideas.

Holding on to the Old

People hold on to old ideas and old things because they lack the faith in their ability to obtain new ideas and new things. This leads to a condition of insecurity, which stems from an inability to understand who and what you are.

If you lack the awareness of your true relationship with your infinity power, you will always have a distorted image of yourself.

Your true self has no limits. You are quite capable of being, doing, and having virtually anything you desire. Who individuals fail to appreciate this truth, they are afraid to try anything new. And the result is simple — they what to hold on to what they already have, and then they will try to accumulate even more of the same.

Just as you must make room in your closet for new clothes, so it is with ideas. You must let go of one idea before you can move yourself into action on another.

This process is never-ending. It is something that we should plan on practicing every day of our lives. We must continually be "making space" for the good we desire.

Mind First

Bob Proctor uses a Stick Person to help people understand how the pieces of the mind work together.

C = Conscious Mind
 This is the part of the mind that has control over what thoughts you think.

S = Subconscious Mind
 This part of the mind has to accept every thought that the conscious mind chooses to accept. This is where the programs and paradigms live.

B = Body
 The body is an instrument of the mind. The body's habits and behavior are controlled by the programs stored in the subconscious mind.
